Nisshin Steel

Award: Safety
Category: Safety Training

Exchange greetings

Challenge

To create a better workshop culture, we conduct an exchange of greetings activity named "No. 1 Greeting" since December 2016. We do this because we think that greeting will make us communicate with each other and in that way better respect the factory discipline and the basic rules.

Action

The General Managers, Managers and Assistant Managers take the initiative to greet all the Kure site workers and customers. When arriving at work or leaving the goal is to greet everyone we meet, e.g. the visitor on the factory tour, someone from another department, ...

Outcome
This action was started in December 2016 only, so it is too early to communicate about the results. Our aim is to have a high degree of discipline and integrity through this greeting plan. To put it differently, greeting is the foundation of a plant worker's communication.